This jam-packed class will discuss “what I always wanted to tell Landlords and Tenants about the process before the court for presenting cases, and the evidence to be presented,” by Judge Grinsted. Keith Wood will discuss the clearing the confusion when Managers are responsible for property during foreclosure. Mike Chesser and Glen Gillyard will discuss how owners should hold title, and the tax consequences of each method of holding title. Mike Kent will participate with the others in a panel discussion designed to answer any questions left by the presentations. This session is designed to assist Brokers and Salespersons in all aspects of the management of residential rental properties. Flyer.
